

BRILL BROS.

TWO MEN TRIED SUICIDE.
One Hanged Himself and One Used a Pistol.

Morris Fears to Die in the Poor-House.

Coroner Kene, of Brooklyn, was notified this morning of the suicide of John Morris, sixty-three years old, at his home, 85 Bedford avenue, last night. Morris had been on a spree for the past week. He came home drunk at 7 o'clock Tuesday night and was put to bed.

He was not disturbed yesterday. His landlady, supposing he was asleep, left the effects of his debauch. Last night two of his fellow-workmen from Dunlap's Hat Factory called to see him.

On entering his room they found his body suspended from the bedpost. A rope made of a strip of old felt. Morris feared that he would die in a poor-house, and it is supposed that he was temporarily insane when he killed himself.

John Collis, sixty-seven years old, of 109 North Sixth street, Brooklyn, is in a dying condition at the Seney Hospital from the effects of a bullet lodged in his left breast, just below the heart. He had been out of employment a long time.

Yesterday afternoon he went to Prospect Park. After wandering around for several hours, he found a secluded spot, and prepared to end his life.

He laid himself down upon the grass and then discharged the revolver into his body. When the police arrived Collis was still conscious, and he muttered:

"No work, no work."

Collis is a copper worker. He has a wife and two children.

MRS. GARRISON SENT TO JAIL.
Stupid Ending of a Sensational Attempt at Suicide.

Little Garrison, the pretty young woman who endeavored to drown herself in Williamsburg last night, was arrested before Justice Goetting in the Lee Avenue Court today on a charge of intoxication and was sent to jail for ten days. Her companion, William Quinn, a saloon-keeper, 181 York street, did not go with her to the river. When Mrs. Garrison was arrested she was found in a state of extreme intoxication. She was taken to the hospital, but made no attempt to bail her out.

When Mrs. Garrison was sentenced she broke down and cried for over an hour. Evidently she did not expect any imprudence on her part, smiling and gay when arraigned in court.

TWO MEN HURT BY TROLLEY CARS.
Maurice Coleman and William Kimmins the Latest Victims.

Maurice Coleman, fifty years old, of 271 Adams street, Brooklyn, was knocked down in front of his home to-day by a Hicks street trolley-car and badly cut on the head.

William Kimmins, twenty-six years old, of 62 Prince street, was struck by a trolley-car on the corner of Prince and Adams streets this morning and sustained three scalp wounds. He was taken to the City Hospital.

Clutch at Till-Tapping.
Charles Steers, of 1231 Flushing avenue, was held in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day on a charge of burglary. He was arrested on a charge of burglary. He was arrested on a charge of burglary.

HE SOLD LOVE POTIONS.
A Female Customer Has Mrs. Weismann Arrested.

Justice Goetting, in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day issued a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Emma Weismann, of 85 Stiegel street, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

It appears that Mrs. Weismann earns her living by selling love potions, and Mrs. Fannie Freedman, of 18 Grand street, purchased one of these. Mrs. Freedman tried to bring back her husband's love. Last evening Mrs. Freedman endeavored to empty the stuff into her husband's glass of beer and he caught her in the act. Then explanations followed.

"Well, you must be weak minded to think any such nonsense," Mrs. Weismann made me love you," Freedman is alleged to have said.

"You go around to court to-morrow and have that old woman arrested for robbing you."

CONGRESSMEN COMMENDED.
Senators Condemned in Chamber of Commerce Resolutions.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day resolutions were adopted commending the course of Congressmen and condemning the Senate for its action in regard to the Silver Repeal bill.

Ex-Mayor Oakey Hall Speaks for the Anarchist.
The Prosecution Closes Its Case Against Miss Goldman.

Emma Goldman, the brown-haired, blue-eyed little queen of the Anarchists, was as fresh as a daisy when Deputy Sheriff Brown called for her at the Tombs this morning.

She was escorted through Centre street to the scene of her trial for indulging in incendiary speeches at the Union Square mass-meeting of the unemployed.

She stalked along beside the giant Sheriff's officer with as much dignity and self-possession as a puddy young woman of scarcely thirty inches stature could do and keep pace with her big escort.

She vouchsafed not a word to the officer, nor heeded the half dozen street urinals who tagged along to stare at her. Her slight, trim figure in the woman's prison seemed not to have done her any harm, though her counsel, ex-Mayor A. Oakey Hall, Benjamin Douras and Mr. Heyer had pleaded long and earnestly with Judge Martine at the adjournment of the trial last night to spare her that one night in the Tombs.

Upon her arrival at the brown-stone Court-House Miss Goldman was taken into the high fence that surrounds the prisoners' pen at the rear of Part I. of the General Sessions.

Then with her spectacles adjusted, her hands crossed behind her and her protruding chin lifted in the air, she uttered the "Social Revenge" and up and down like a lioness in her cage.

Presently one of her Anarchistic friends came over a high-rail fence, which she proudly placed in the "V" of the main black coat that fitted her like a glove.

On the approach of others, curiosity seekers, who resumed her walk up and down her cage, with her reticence now more elevated than ever.

Roundsmen Charles L. Schaeffer and Maxwell, of the New Jersey Central Railroad, is to succeed President Corbin as not generally directed. Several directors of that road have great admiration for Mr. Maxwell's ability as a railroad man, and the heavy losses by the season's accident have been strengthened by the resignations of Supt. Jacob and Supt. Frank H. Kelly, of the Equipment Department.

It is said that the resignation of General Supt. Hootch, General Manager R. H. Jacobs and Consulting Engineer G. M. Jacobs are next in order.

THREATENED TO KILL HIS WIFE.
Mrs. Bella McKay Sues Her Husband for Separation.

Bella McKay was plaintiff in a suit for separation from her husband, David, which was heard before Judge Osborne in the City Court, Brooklyn, this morning. Mrs. McKay charged her husband with the crime of cruelty and had often threatened to put her out of the way.

The papers were served on McKay last August, in Raymond Street jail, where he was confined for assaulting the plaintiff.

The couple were married Dec. 20, 1888, and have had five children, three of whom are now living. Mrs. McKay accuses her husband of throwing her against a window pane, of breaking the glass, and on another occasion knocking her down.

When Mrs. McKay was in court she took a razor and threatened to cut her throat, and in June last, he displayed a knife and threatened to cut her. He said he was going to cut her head off and then kill the children. A decree will be granted.

IT'S RATHER TOO MUCH FOR YOU
—the ordinary, bulky pill, too big to take, and too much disturbance for your poor system. The smallest, easiest to take, and best are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They are gentle, and do not disturb the system, but yet do more good. Their help is in constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick or bilious headache, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved, and permanently cured. They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

If you're suffering from Catarrh, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy ask you to try their medicine.

Then, if you can't be cured, they'll pay you $50 in cash.

The Prosecution Closes Its Case Against Miss Goldman.

Emma Goldman, the brown-haired, blue-eyed little queen of the Anarchists, was as fresh as a daisy when Deputy Sheriff Brown called for her at the Tombs this morning.

She was escorted through Centre street to the scene of her trial for indulging in incendiary speeches at the Union Square mass-meeting of the unemployed.

She stalked along beside the giant Sheriff's officer with as much dignity and self-possession as a puddy young woman of scarcely thirty inches stature could do and keep pace with her big escort.

She vouchsafed not a word to the officer, nor heeded the half dozen street urinals who tagged along to stare at her. Her slight, trim figure in the woman's prison seemed not to have done her any harm, though her counsel, ex-Mayor A. Oakey Hall, Benjamin Douras and Mr. Heyer had pleaded long and earnestly with Judge Martine at the adjournment of the trial last night to spare her that one night in the Tombs.

Upon her arrival at the brown-stone Court-House Miss Goldman was taken into the high fence that surrounds the prisoners' pen at the rear of Part I. of the General Sessions.

On the approach of others, curiosity seekers, who resumed her walk up and down her cage, with her reticence now more elevated than ever.

Jacob and Supt. Frank H. Kelly, of the Equipment Department.

It is said that the resignation of General Supt. Hootch, General Manager R. H. Jacobs and Consulting Engineer G. M. Jacobs are next in order.

Mrs. Bella McKay Sues Her Husband for Separation.

Bella McKay was plaintiff in a suit for separation from her husband, David, which was heard before Judge Osborne in the City Court, Brooklyn, this morning. Mrs. McKay charged her husband with the crime of cruelty and had often threatened to put her out of the way.

The papers were served on McKay last August, in Raymond Street jail, where he was confined for assaulting the plaintiff.

The couple were married Dec. 20, 1888, and have had five children, three of whom are now living. Mrs. McKay accuses her husband of throwing her against a window pane, of breaking the glass, and on another occasion knocking her down.

When Mrs. McKay was in court she took a razor and threatened to
